DRY CZAR ANDREWS FACING DEEP PROBLEMS

6 MAJOR ONES TO ENROSS HIS ATTENTION

ORGANIZING ZONE SUPERVISING SQUAD TO AID DRYING UP NATION

PLANNING A FALL CAMPAIGN AGAINST BOOTLEGGERS BEFORE SEPT. 1

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Assistant Secretary of Treasury Andrews returns from Europe today to face the most intricate prohibition problems since he became dry czar. Six major problems await Andrews' action. They are:

1. Appointment of a new dry administrator for California and Nevada to succeed Col. Ned M. Green, suspended on charges of converting government liquor to personal use.
 2. Organizing of a zone supervising squad to aid in drying up America. Zone superintendents will act as liaison officers between headquarters and agents in the field.
 3. Planning a fall campaign against bootleggers before Sept. 1, when he will meet with regional administrators to outline the offense.
 4. Appointment of a new British anti-smuggling arrangement, which headquarters believe will put rum runners operating from the Bahamas and Canada out of business.
 5. Realignment of Canadian border patrol forces.
 6. Explanation of Controller General McCarl of the Bruce Belaski case. Andrews personally hired Belaski as a special under cover agent at a reported salary of $1,100 a month. McCarl wants to know how the sleuth was paid, as he was not on the prohibition payroll.
- In addition to these problems Andrews has still a larger one—a personal one—to solve, whether to remain in office.
- Andrews is expected to resign in the near future but his friends said pressure was being brought to induce him to remain in office until after the elections.

HIBBING GETS NEXT MEETING OF THE LEGION

AUSTIN FAVORABLY RECOMMENDED FOR THE 1928 CONVENTION

MAMMOTH PARADE AT MANKATO ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Mankato, Minn., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Hibbing was chosen as next year's convention city by delegates to the American Legion annual state convention here late Tuesday. Austin received favorable recommendation for the 1928 meeting.

Tuesday night the Legionnaires concluded the second of the three days' sessions, with a mammoth parade through downtown streets. Thousands of persons jammed the sidewalks to view the display.

Legion delegates went on record as opposing aliens teaching in the public schools of the state.

In another resolution it was asked that boxing be permitted in towns of over 5,000 population.

Other legislative recommendations passed were for fish licensing, reforestation and strengthening of the soldiers' preference act.

The convention will close today with election of officers.

Paul Geer, St. Paul; L. E. Bumwinkle, Pelican Rapids, and Rufus J. Rand, Minneapolis, are candidates for the commandership. A hot fight has been brewing in various sections of the assembly delegates and there is much talk of "dark horse" candidates entering the contest at the last minute.

At present, however, Geer seems to have a slight edge over his rivals.

WILLIAM JOHNSON OF ROCKFORD DIES

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 11.—(UP)—William Johnson, 49, first president of the Swedish American Hospital association and vice president of the Swedish American bank, died here following a long illness. He was a former state's attorney for Winnegabo county and was head of the Winnebago County Bar association.

50 Killed Rioting Over Mexican Religious Laws

FARMER STRUCK BY LIGHTNING AS HE CRANKED CAR

Miller, S. D., Aug. 11.—(UP)—While cranking his car on a farm near here Tuesday Harold Rowan was struck by lightning which hurled him 20 feet against the side of a building.

Rowan was unconscious when his parents rushed to his aid. He was revived, however, and it was found his only injuries were burns on the nose, hands and feet. The automobile was not damaged and the engine was running when Rowan regained consciousness.

SEEK TO SAVE FIVE ENTOMBED MINERS AT SALEM

NEW SHAFT SUNK 70 FEET TO REACH IMPRISONED MEN

BELIEVED DIRECTLY ABOVE THE POCKET HOLDING THEM, 5 MORE FEET TO GO

Salem, Ky., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Rescue workers today expected to reach the level in the American Fluorspar & Zinc Company's mine, where five men have been entombed since Friday.

Good progress was made during the night, officials reported. The new shaft had been sunk 70 feet, with only five more feet to go, it was estimated. The shaft is directly above the pocket where the men were last working. Twelve hours probably will be required to reach the men, officials believe.

Workers have abandoned two or three methods used in rescue work. Because of a layer of slanting rock it was necessary to give up the attempt to sink the fifth hole with a well digger and the diamond point core drill also had been abandoned. Late yesterday two miners, crawled into the shaft as far as the cave, and reported there was a strong current of air there. Their findings indicated the entombed men have been getting fresh air.

Streams of cold water run through the pocket in which the men were trapped, making it possible for the men to have been frozen to death. There is no possibility of the men having been drowned from the water from the underground lake, it is said, since the pocket is high enough for them to climb to a level above the reach of the water.

WHITEMORE REFUSED 11TH HOUR PLEA

Baltimore, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Richard Rees Whitmore was today refused an 11th hour plea for a stay. His execution will take place after midnight Thursday. He is to die for the murder of a guard during his escape from the Maryland penitentiary. Judge Robert F. Stanton refused him a writ of habeas corpus which would have reviewed his sentence and also a writ of error which would have permitted his attorney to appeal to the United States supreme court.

EXPLOSION WRECKS NEW PLANT OF ENGRAVING CO.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Explosion of a charge of dynamite in the foundation partly wrecked the new plant of the Eclipse Electrotape & Engraving company here today. Every window in a large apartment building next door was shattered by the blast. One child and 12 others in the building were slightly injured by flying glass.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY DECLARED INVALID

Dixon, Ill., Aug. 11.—(UP)—The Illinois primary law was declared invalid today by three judges in the circuit court who listened to testimony in a test suit brought by William J. McAlpin, Dixon politician.

It is the fourth time in the history of Illinois that primary laws have been declared invalid.

It was announced that the case would be appealed to the supreme court by the state.

DESCRIBES LIFE AS WIFE OF AN INDIAN PRINCE

BETTY KURLOW, FORMER UNIVERSITY COED, IN THRILLING EXPERIENCES

WEST AND EAST, LIKE KIPLING SAID, CANNOT AMALGAMATE

Note—This is the second of a series of five articles written for the United Press by Betty Kurlow, former university coed, describing her life as the wife of a minor Indian potentate, Abani Kumar Bose of Barodi, East Bengal, India. After going through many experiences in Calcutta and in Abani's jungle harem, she escaped and came to Chicago, where she obtained a divorce. In her first article Miss Kurlow told of Abani's whirlwind courtship, while both were university students, of their marriage in Chicago and of the fury of Abani's family, when they learned he had married an "unclean one."

By BETTY KURLOW
(Written for United Press)

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Abani began to talk about going to India to his home in Barodi. He said he wanted to take me to his family so they could see he had not married beneath himself. I reminded him of his promise to stay in America. He replied sullenly that he wanted to visit India and would bring me back to Chicago in a few weeks, just as soon as he had proved to his family that I was worthy of being his wife. I finally consented to go for a short visit. We sailed for Calcutta in January, 1918, from New York. On the voyage across the Atlantic and through the Mediterranean my husband was the same wonderful man that he had always been, broad-minded, calm and clear-headed, except that he seemed to brood on the way his mother and brothers had accepted the announcement of our marriage.

Calcutta was my first glimpse of a world entirely different from what I had been accustomed to. Rioting was then being carried on against British rule. English soldiers patrolled the dirty streets, the few white people were hissed and spat at by the natives as they passed thru the city. It was then that I learned Abani was an ardent follower of Mahatma Gandhi, nationalist leader, whose slogan was "India for Indians."

My husband, the nobleman, who had spent years in the United States learning American ways, was an anti-white agitator. I was worried. And he had seemed to change subtly as soon as he landed in India. He took less notice of me, being intent, seemingly, on only one thing, the forcing of my acceptance by his family, which was then staying in Calcutta.

Abani soon lost his American manners completely. He reverted back to an Indian. He was silent, morose and quarrelsome. His family, however, accepted me into their home. The Indians, though, are a people of moods. One day they would treat me as an equal and the next I would be nothing more than a servant. I wore the long flowing robes of the Indian woman and the veil she is forced to keep over her face when men are present. In every way I tried to please my husband's relatives. And I would have succeeded had it not been for their Brahmin priest.

The priest's only day was performing a religious ceremony night and morning for the Bose family. When I arrived he refused to continue the service. He vowed I was unclean, untouchable and even threatened to outcast the Bose family from the church, all on account of me.

Of course, the rulers of Barodi were angry both at me and at the priest. Abani finally decided to have his mother take me to the family castle in Barodi, where the services of another priest were negotiated. Then too Abani said he wanted to meet his mother who was staying in the palace out in the wilds of East Bengal.

And that awful place, I can smile at it now, but when I was forced to stay in it for several months, I

HUGE DISTILLERY FOUND AT ST. PAUL; STILL 30 FT. HIGH

St. Paul, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Bob Lewis was being held today in connection with the seizure Tuesday by federal prohibition agents of a huge distillery here.

The distillery had a capacity of 5,000 gallons of alcohol daily. A net work of 9,000 square feet of pipes, six 10,000 gallon vats, and a 25 horse power boiler was part of the equipment.

Located in the midway district, in a warehouse, which had been camouflaged with office room in front, the plant apparently was intended to do business on a large scale. The still itself was 30 feet high and 15 feet wide.

Officials said today they believed Lewis could furnish information which may lead to other arrests. When the federal agents raided the plant, no one was found in attendance.

EQUALIZATION FEE OF HAUGEN BILL APPROVED

FEDERAL BOARD ALSO RECOMMENDED BY STATE COUNCIL ON FARMING

DECLARATION OF PURPOSE SET FORTH IN RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 11.—(UP)—The executive committee of the Minnesota Council of Agriculture, meeting here Monday afternoon, went on record supporting the national agricultural legislative committee in its program for legislation embodying the principles of an equalization fee and a federal board as provided in the Haugen bill.

In a declaration of purpose resolution adopted by the Minnesota committee declared that "the stranglehold of the industrial east on agriculture and western business may be broken."

Plans were adopted for perfection of the organization in every county in the state, which will be carried out at once. Each county will be represented by an organization of not less than 10 members, with Ramsey and Hennepin counties having committees of not less than 35 members each.

"Agriculture," the declaration of purposes adopted by the council, reads, "is not fighting for supremacy over other groups, but for the maintenance of its dignity and integrity and for the preservation of its homes. It will never sound retreat."

WOMAN OF 43 FOUND SLAIN IN HER HOME

POLICE INVESTIGATE MURDER OF MRS. BLANCHE DONEIL, MILWAUKEE

BRUISED AND BATTERED BODY GAVE EVIDENCE OF TERRIFIC STRUGGLE

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Police today continued their investigation into the murder of Mrs. Blanche Doneil, 43, whose bruised and battered body was found at her home here last night.

Neighbors found the body after having become suspicious of the whining of a small puppy in the Doneil home. Although the position of the body and condition of the home showed evidence of a terrific struggle, neighbors declared they had not heard any unusual noise or indication of a fight. After carefully examining the scene of the murder police began a search for the husband, Joseph Doneil, who was last seen in front of his home at 8 P. M. They are also searching for an Italian, said to be about 30 years of age, and an 18-year-old boy.

thought seriously of committing suicide.

Miss Kurlow's third article, in which she describes the "Wife in the Jungle Palace," will appear shortly.

WISCONSIN PRIMARY TO BE BITTER ONE

OLD LA FOLLETTE ORGANIZATION ON TRIAL SEPTEMBER 7TH

COOLIDGE ADHERENTS ARE PITTED AGAINST LA FOLLETTE SUPPORTERS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Aug. 11.—Politicians here today turned their attention to the Wisconsin primary, bitterest of all the 38 primaries of the year.

There the republicans on September 7 will determine the future status of the old LaFollette organization, which for years has been a source of difficulties for the national republican organization, difficulties which in 1924 caused the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Sr., to bolt in an independent movement for the presidency.

Coolidge adherents are pitted against LaFollette adherents in the race between Senator Irvine Lenroot and Governor John C. Blaine for the republican senatorial nomination, which is virtually equivalent to election.

Lenroot, backed by the Coolidge group, is being vigorously fought by Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., who is campaigning the state in behalf of Blaine. Lenroot is a dry, favoring a state referendum, and Blaine, a wet, is making no effort to develop prohibition as an issue in the campaign. Lenroot fostered American adhesion to the world court and LaFollette is making this one of the principal issues. He is also opposing Lenroot on the farm relief issue and on the ground that he voted to seat Senator Newberry, republican, Michigan, after it had been shown Newberry spent $195,000 in his primary campaign for the senate.

If Lenroot is nominated, politicians here will interpret it as a break in the LaFollette control of the state. If LaFollette succeeds in putting Blaine over, it will be considered that his father's organization, which he is now leading, must be reckoned with by the national administration as stronger than ever before.

Involved in the contest is a race on the state ticket, which may mean as much to the LaFollette organization as does the senate seat. Herman L. Ekern, running on the LaFollette-Blaine ticket for governor, is being strongly opposed by Fred Zimmerman, anti-LaFollette candidate. Should LaFollette lose the state ticket, his organization would be seriously hampered in carrying out its plan even though Blaine wins the senate seat.

3 CONFIDENCE MEN OUTWITTED BY THE 'VICTIM'

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Three men believed to be of the "confidence" type were $300 poorer today as the result of O. M. Weiderman's shrewdness.

Weiderman, a resident of Pine City, Minn., visiting here, met three strangers, and while strolling along the streets together with them found a pocketbook.

In it was a "hot tip" on the stock market.

Weiderman, sensing a scheme to defraud him, willingly agreed to the men's suggestion that he invest according to the information contained in the "tip."

While the men waited in a hotel room for Weiderman to procure the necessary money, he conferred with police, and the trio were placed under arrest.

They were later released on $300 bail.

When the case was called in court the men failed to appear and their bail money was ordered forfeited.

GREEK GOVERNMENT LISTENS TO PLAINT OF HOME BREWERS

Athens, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Owing to demands voiced in a public mass meeting the government has abolished taxation on vessels used in home distillation of liquors.

COMMUNISTS AND ARMED POLICE CLASH IN BERLIN

Berlin, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Communists and armed police clashed in the north end of Berlin today during a red demonstration against "world wide injustice."

About 20 persons were protesting against the Sacco-Vanzetti case in Massachusetts and against the imprisonment of Hungarian communists. Batons and finally guns were employed by police, although it was stated that the volleys were fired with blank cartridges.

CLEMENCEAU TELLS WHY HE WROTE LETTER

SAYS AMERICAN PEOPLE LOVE THE FRENCH NATION

WANTED TO SEPARATE DEBT QUESTION FROM THAT OF BANKS

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1926, by United Press)

St. Vincent Sur Jur, Aug. 11.—An old man turning 80 sat in his shanty-like abode facing the sea-shore and told me why he came out of retirement which had engulfed him since he won the war for France and wrote a letter to President Coolidge.

The man was Georges Clemenceau, the Tiger of France. His story was simple, compared with the intrigues and developments which surround most documents of such importance.

"I'll tell you the truth about that letter," he said. "I know the Americans. If ever there was a people that loved France it was the American people. They make mistakes like all of us, but you have done such splendid things that we could only give America that final French phrase, that they are such a fine people. But it has been so evident recently that this sentiment was changing that I decided to write the letter three or four days ago, because scores of people appealed to me to do so. So I decided to write the letter. I did not want to make it personal or a financial argument. I wanted to separate the question from banks. I have nothing against the bankers but their commission is a question of business just as measurement is a trade for tailors. I could have said many other things, but I wanted to say only what I did say. I was frank, also, toward England and how she played Germany against France. Now it is the same thing regarding debts. We hear that America is coming to be greatly disliked in England and now it is France. That is bad."

"It was funny that once I had written the letter I had so hard a time sending it off," said Clemenceau. "Here I am far away from modern civilization and virtually alone. I thought to go to Paris, but I am not so vigorous as I used to be. I did not send the letter direct to President Coolidge by mail, because it might have been too late and I would have had to telegraph it which would have been impracticable. So I telegraphed to a friend on a French news agency."

Clemenceau emphasized that he expected no reply to his letter and that it was not designed to bring a reply.

"I did not ask to remain in power," Clemenceau said relative to his removal from office, "because I was very tired. For 18 months after leaving office I did not look at a newspaper. Since then I have been working on my books. You can say that the past five years have been the most beautiful in my life."

National Headquarters Building for K. of P.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Consideration of the establishment of a new permanent headquarters for the Knights of Pythias in Chicago, Washington, Minneapolis or Indianapolis was before the fraternal organization here today in its biennial convention. The building will cost $1,000,000, it is estimated.

Recognition of a junior order, the Princes of Syracuse, which already has 1,000 members will be before the convention.

GUADALAJARA AND SAOPAULO STORM CENTERS

PRES. CALLES EXPLAINS STAND OF STATE TO TOURIST PARTY

"GOVERNMENT NOT FIGHTING CHURCH, BUT SEDITIOUS MEMBERS OF CLERGY"

By A. W. FOLGER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, Aug. 11.—American officials here said they have received reports from Guadalajara confirming previous reports that between 50 and 60 persons were killed in rioting when the religious laws were made effective. At present all is quiet there.

Arriving from Morelia in the state of Michoanaca, Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz Cisneros said 40 persons, including two priests were killed there. The number includes 17 who, he says, were executed by troops, because of religious rioting at Saopaulo. He also said 16 persons have been killed in the past week at Irapuato.

Declaring the government's fight was not against the church, but against seditious members of the clergy, President Calles has told a group of American tourists that "taking over the churches was necessary because the vast holdings of the church enabled the groups to thwart the government."

Discussing the situation with the Americans, who were led by Dr. Alva Taylor, he said that the churchmen maintained the position held by the Catholic churchmen in the United States there would have been no dispute with the government.

EDSEL FORD RELIABILITY TOUR OFF FOR IOWA

22 PLANES TO MAKE 225 MILE FLIGHT TO DES MOINES

PLANS FORMED FOR AIRLINE, DETROIT TO ST. PAUL, FARGO TO WINNIPEG

St. Paul, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Twenty-two planes entered in the Edsel Ford reliability tour, will take off here today at 10 A. M. for the 225-mile flight to Des Moines, Iowa, the next stop on their tour.

Fair weather was predicted for today and it was believed the dark clouds which gathered early in the morning will have dispersed by the time the flyers are scheduled to start.

Coinciding with the departure of the visiting pilots who have been here two days, Col. L. H. Brittin of the St. Paul Association's aviation committee, announced that planes have been conceived for extension of the Stout-Ford air line promised from Detroit to St. Paul through to Fargo and Winnipeg.

The St. Paul-Detroit service will be started as soon as planes of the Stout-Ford all-metal monoplane type, now being demonstrated here, can be produced in sufficient number to carry on the passenger transportation schedule.

DROUGHT BREAKING RAINS IN NEBRASKA LASTED 36 HOURS

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Breaking a drought which seriously damaged crops in various parts of Nebraska, rain continued to fall over most of the state today. The storms have lasted for 36 hours.

At Crawford, Neb., a near cloud-burst washed out a bridge and several hundred feet of track on the Chicago & Northwestern railway, causing damage estimated at $500,000. Citizens were aiding today in preventing further damage to the city park from streams, which have left their banks.

Tornadoes at Stuart and Creighton, Neb., caused considerable damage to farms and crops and injured at least two persons.

FEDERAL BOARD ALSO RECOMMENDED BY STATE COUNCIL ON FARMING

DECLARATION OF PURPOSE SET FORTH IN RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 11.—(UP) — The executive committee of the Minnesota Council of Agriculture, meeting here Monday afternoon, went on record supporting the national agricultural legislative committee in its program for legislation embodying the principles of an equalization fee and a federal board as provided in the Haugen bill.

In a declaration of purpose resolution adopted by the Minnesota committee declared that "the stranglehold of the industrial east on agriculture and western business may be broken."

Plans were adopted for perfection of the organization in every county in the state, which will be carried out at once. Each county will be represented by an organization of not less than 10 members, with Ramsey and Hennepin counties having committees of not less than 35 members each.

"Agriculture," the declaration of purposes adopted by the council, reads, "is not fighting for supremacy over other groups, but for the maintenance of its dignity and integrity and for the preservation of its homes. It will never sound retreat."

WOMAN OF 43 FOUND SLAIN IN HER HOME

POLICE INVESTIGATE MURDER OF MRS. BLANCHE DONEIL, MILWAUKEE

BRUISED AND BATTERED BODY GAVE EVIDENCE OF TERRIFIC STRUGGLE

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 11.—(UP) — Police today continued their investigation into the murder of Mrs. Blanche Doneil, 43, whose bruised and battered body was found at her home here last night.

Neighbors found the body after having become suspicious of the whining of a small puppy in the Doneil home. Although the position of the body and condition of the home showed evidence of a terrific struggle, neighbors declared they had not heard any unusual noise or indication of a fight. After carefully examining the scene of the murder police began a search for the husband, Joseph Doneil, who was last seen in front of his home at 8 P. M. They are also searching for an Italian, said to be about 30 years of age, and an 18-year-old boy.

WISCONSIN PRIMARY TO BE BITTER ONE

OLD LA FOLLETTE ORGANIZATION ON TRIAL SEPTEMBER 7TH

COOLIDGE ADHERENTS ARE PITTED AGAINST LA FOLLETTE SUPPORTERS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Aug. 11.—Politicians here today turned their attention to the Wisconsin primary, bitterest of all the 38 primaries of the year.

There the republicans on September 7 will determine the future status of the old LaFollette organization, which for years has been a source of difficulties for the national republican organization, difficulties which in 1924 caused the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Sr., to bolt in an independent movement for the presidency.

Coolidge adherents are pitted against LaFollette adherents in the race between Senator Irvine Lenroot and Governor John C. Blaine for the republican senatorial nomination, which is virtually equivalent to election.

Lenroot, backed by the Coolidge group, is being vigorously fought by Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., who is campaigning the state in behalf of Blaine. Lenroot is a dry, favoring a state referendum, and Blaine, a wet, is making no effort to develop prohibition as an issue in the campaign. Lenroot fostered American adhesion to the world court and LaFollette is making this one of the principal issues. He is also opposing Lenroot on the farm relief issue and on the ground that he voted to seat Senator Newberry, republican, Michigan, after it had been shown Newberry spent $195,000 in his primary campaign for the senate.

If Lenroot is nominated, politicians here will interpret it as a break in the LaFollette control of the state. If LaFollette succeeds in putting Blaine over, it will be considered that his father's organization, which he is now leading, must be reckoned with by the national administration as stronger than ever before.

Involved in the contest is a race on the state ticket, which may mean as much to the LaFollette organization as does the senate seat. Herman L. Ekern, running on the LaFollette-Blaine ticket for governor, is being strongly opposed by Fred Zimmerman, anti-LaFollette candidate. Should LaFollette lose the state ticket, his organization would be seriously hampered in carrying out its plan even though Blaine wins the senate seat.

3 CONFIDENCE MEN OUTWITTED BY THE 'VICTIM'

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 11.—(UP) — Three men believed to be of the "confidence" type were $300 poorer today as the result of O. M. Weideman's shrewdness.

Weideman, a resident of Pine City, Minn., visiting here, met three strangers, and while strolling along the streets together with them found a pocketbook.

In it was a "hot tip" on the stock market.

Weideman, sensing a scheme to defraud him, willingly agreed to the men's suggestion that he invest according to the information contained in the "tip."

While the men waited in a hotel room for Weideman to procure the necessary money, he conferred with police, and the trio were placed under arrest.

They were later released on $300 bail.

When the case was called in court the men failed to appear and their bail money was ordered forfeited.

GREEK GOVERNMENT LISTENS TO PLAINT OF HOME BREWERS

Athens, Aug. 11.—(UP) — Owing to demands voiced in a public mass meeting the government has abolished taxation on vessels used in home distillation of liquors.

COMMUNISTS AND ARMED POLICE CLASH IN BERLIN

Berlin, Aug. 11.—(UP) — Communists and armed police clashed in the north end of Berlin today during a red demonstration against "world wide injustice."

About 20 persons were protesting against the Sacco-Vanzetti case in Massachusetts and against the imprisonment of Hungarian communists. Bats and finally guns were employed by police, although it was stated that the volleys were fired with blank cartridges.

CLEMENCEAU TELLS WHY HE WROTE LETTER

SAYS AMERICAN PEOPLE LOVE THE FRENCH NATION

WANTED TO SEPARATE DEBT QUESTION FROM THAT OF BANKS

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1926, by United Press)

St. Vincent Sur Jur, Aug. 11.—An old man turning 80 sat in his shanty-like abode facing the seashore and told me why he came out of retirement which had engulfed him since he won the war for France and wrote a letter to President Coolidge.

The man was Georges Clemenceau, the Tiger of France. His story was simple, compared with the intrigues and developments which surrounded most documents of such importance. "I'll tell you the truth about that letter," he said. "I know the Americans. If ever there was a people that loved France it was the American people. They make mistakes like all of us, but you have done such splendid things that we could only give America that final French phrase, that they are such chic people. But it has been so evident recently that this sentiment was changing that I decided to write the letter three or four days ago, because scores of people appealed to me to do so. So I decided to write the letter. I did not want to make it personal or a financial argument. I wanted to separate the question from banks. I have nothing against the bankers but their commission is a question of business just as measurement is a trade for tailors. I could have said many other things, but I wanted to say only what I did say. I was frank, also, toward England and how she played Germany against France. Now it is the same thing regarding debts. We hear that America is coming to be greatly disliked in England and now it is France. That is bad."

"It was funny that once I had written the letter I had so hard a time sending it off," said Clemenceau. "Here I am far away from modern civilization and virtually alone. I thought to go to Paris, but I am not so vigorous as I used to be. I did not send the letter direct to President Coolidge by mail, because it might have been too late and I would have had to telegraph it which would have been impracticable. So I telegraphed to a friend on a French news agency."

Clemenceau emphasized that he expected no reply to his letter and that it was not designed to bring a reply.

"I did not ask to remain in power," Clemenceau said relative to his removal from office, "because I was very tired. For 18 months after leaving office I did not look at a newspaper. Since then I have been working on my books. You can say that the past five years have been the most beautiful in my life."

GUADALAJARA AND SAOPAUO STORM CENTERS

PRES. CALLES EXPLAINS STAND OF STATE TO TOURIST PARTY

"GOVERNMENT NOT FIGHTING CHURCH, BUT SEDITIOUS MEMBERS OF CLERGY"

By A. W. FOLGER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, Aug. 11.—American officials here said they have received reports from Guadalajara confirming previous reports that between 50 and 60 persons were killed in rioting when the religious laws were made effective. At present all is quiet there.

Arriving from Morelia in the state of Michoanaca, Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz Cisneros said 40 persons, including two priests were killed there. The number includes 17 who, he says, were executed by troops, because of religious rioting at Saopauo. He also said 16 persons have been killed in the past week at Irapuato.

Declaring the government's fight was not against the church, but against seditious members of the clergy, President Calles has told a group of American tourists that taking over the churches was necessary because the vast holdings of the church enabled the groups to thwart the government.

Discussing the situation with the Americans, who were led by Dr. Alva Taylor, he said that the churchmen maintained the position held by the Catholic churchmen in the United States there would have been no dispute with the government.

EDSEL FORD RELIABILITY TOUR OFF FOR IOWA

22 PLANES TO MAKE 225 MILE FLIGHT TO DES MOINES

PLANS FORMED FOR AIRLINE, DETROIT TO ST. PAUL, FARGO TO WINNIPEG

St. Paul, Aug. 11.—(UP) — Twenty-two planes entered in the Edsel Ford reliability tour, will take off here today at 10 A. M. for the 225-mile flight to Des Moines, Iowa, the next stop on their tour.

Fair weather was predicted for today and it was believed the dark clouds which gathered early in the morning will have dispersed by the time the flyers are scheduled to start.

Coinciding with the departure of the visiting pilots who have been here two days, Col. L. H. Brittin of the St. Paul Association's aviation committee, announced that planes have been completed for extension of the Stout-Ford air line promised from Detroit to St. Paul through to Fargo and Winnipeg.

The St. Paul-Detroit service will be started as soon as planes of the Stout-Ford all-metal monoplane type, now being demonstrated here, can be produced in sufficient number to carry on the passenger transportation schedule.

DROUGHT BREAKING

RAINS IN NEBRASKA LASTED 36 HOURS

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 11.—(UP) — Breaking a drought which seriously damaged crops in various parts of Nebraska, rain continued to fall over most of the state today. The storms have lasted for 36 hours.

At Crawford, Neb., a near cloud-burst washed out a bridge and several hundred feet of track on the Chicago & Northwestern railway, causing damage estimated at $500,000. Citizens were aiding today in preventing further damage to the city park from streams, which have left their banks.

Tornadoes at Stuart and Creighton, Neb., caused considerable damage to farms and crops and injured at least two persons.

Alamo Originally Church

The Alamo, in Texas, was a Franciscan mission built about 1722 and occasionally used after 1793 as a fort. It consisted of a church, an inclosed convent yard about 160 feet square, a convent, a hospital building and a plaza covering about two and one-half acres and protected by a wall 8 feet high and 33 inches thick.

THE HOME PAPER

MEN everywhere are coming more and more to understand and appreciate the influence of the rural press in the affairs of this country.

Only a few years ago we were told that the local newspaper was passing—that it could not compete with the dailies and weeklies of the big cities—and that it must yield to the inevitable.

But the prophets were wrong. It is true that the local daily or weekly cannot supply in detail all of the news of the world. It cannot compete with its city contemporary in illustrations and features.

And yet the local paper is still with us, and it is growing in strength and usefulness as the years go by. Some of the reasons for its existence are summed up in this paragraph from an exchange:

The local paper should be found in every home. No children should grow up ignorant who can be taught to appreciate the home paper. It is said to be the stepping stone of intelligence in all those matters not to be found in books. Give your children a foreign paper which contains not a word about any person, place or thing, which they saw or perhaps ever heard of, and how could you expect them to be interested. But let them have the home paper and read of people whom they meet and of places of which they are familiar and soon an interest is awakened which increases with every arrival of the local paper. Thus a habit of reading is formed and those children will read the papers all their lives and become intelligent men and women, a credit to their ancestors, strong in the knowledge of the world as it is today.—Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

TARVIA PAVING

THE tarvia paving laid down Nisswa to Brainerd has now had a chance to settle and is giving the best of satisfaction. It was poured in hot weather and experts say that is the best temperature for having it permeate its bed of gravel.

Checkers on the highway will shortly have their figures compiled indicating the heavy traffic on this section of Trunk Highway No. 19. Laying tarvia and making it this type of highway, does away with heavy costs attending maintenance of gravel roads. As a gravel road this section of No. 19 required constant repair and other maintenance and in dry weather little could be done. Clay in holes dried and lost its adhesive quality as shown in wet weather.

This strip of No. 19 may be the forerunner of other tarvia roads in the Brainerd district. We are thankful for and duly appreciate all improvements made by the State Highway Commission.

We are grateful also for the proposed improvement in re-gravelling the section of highway No. 2 from Brainerd to the iron range. This also bears a large amount of traffic.

MORE ON OTTO BREMER

IN commenting on the recent editorial in THE BRAINERD DISPATCH, referring to the advent of Otto Bremer, St. Paul capitalist, in the Brainerd banking field, Editor Alvah Eastman of the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press, says:

"Otto Bremer is one of the really big men of the Northwest, possessing sound judgment, a forward looking, capable man, and who has faith in the Northwest. He has not only great means of his own, but has the confidence of the big, successful financiers, and it is a mighty good thing for this section of the country to have so shrewd a financier gifted with well ballasted optimism.

"The town that has him linked up with its banking interests is to be congratulated, and it should go a long way to maintain the confidence of the people in its banks.

Personally he is a most genial gentleman, and although he has abundant wealth of his own, the fine spirit of the man is exemplified in his willingness to give service to the people."

BRAINERD

25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Aug. 10, 1901

The retail clerk's protective association have elected officers as follows for the ensuing year: President, R. L. Weeks; First Vice President, Miss Sophia Moe; Second Vice President, Miss Stella Lorentz; Recording Secretary, E. E. Reilly; Financial Secretary, Miss Bertha Stadel; Treasurer, Miss Sadie Reilly; Guardian, Enis Knutson; Guide, Charles Risk.

One of the finest bunch of cattle ever brought to Crow Wing county arrived this morning. L. W. Tyrell has just returned from his old home in Iowa and brought the cattle with him to be placed on his Maple Grove farm. The bunch consists of as fine a lot of short horns as a fancier of fine stock cares to look upon. They were taken out to Mr. Tyrell's farm this afternoon.

C. A. Burton left this afternoon for Duluth to spend Sunday with friends.

The Brainerd Stamp Works have moved to the vacant rooms over Nemo's drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moberg left this noon for the East. They go to Buffalo to take in the Pan American exposition.

The editor of the Staples World while in Brainerd made a few observations among which was the following. H. G. Wright, formerly employed in the bank at this place is now stenographer in the offices of the Brainerd Lumber company. After supper he invited us up to see the big mill at work by lamp light. It has its own electric light plant, water works and fire pumps. They employ nearly 600 men and have a monthly pay roll of over $30,000. We inspected everything from the water's edge to the hurricane deck but a fitting description would be impossible in a paragraph. We intended to get around to see Dan Holliday and the Whitfords while at the mill but time did not permit. After returning to town Mr. Wright took us to the Y. M. C. A. building. It has just been repapered throughout and the members are all proud of it now. There is nothing better in town than a well conducted Y. M. C. A. and Secretary Wilhelm is just the man for the place.

Play in Your Own Playground! Yellowstone Park

Yellowstone is yours. With dozens of mighty geysers, hot springs, rainbow terraces, petrified groves, breath-taking canyons, waterfalls, wild animals of the forest and mountain!

Here is one of the most varied and beautiful wildernesses in the world. It belongs to you. The government has set it aside for you to enjoy.

You have Alpine flower gardens in "The Park", unexcelled in range, color and variety.

You have wild animal friends—elk, deer, buffalo, mountain sheep, bear and moose, fearless, calmly indifferent, or frankly interested.

You have good fishing in your Park. All the waters of Yellowstone are trout waters and some of them, the best in the country.

You have bewildering beauty. The geysers, the snowy peaks, the rainbow terraces—and the glorious Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone!

Play in your own vast playground this summer, where the Rockies are "as they were in the Beginning". It will be the happiest vacation you ever enjoyed.

P.S. If you want any information about Yellowstone, I am at your service.

DEMPSEY-TUNNEY BOUT SEEMS GO SEPT. 16

A FEW LITTLE THINGS REMAIN TO BE IRONED OUT

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT SEEMS ASSURED NOW

"FIGHT IS NOT ON, BUT IT IS NOT OFF" WITH N. Y. LICENSE COMMITTEE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Aug. 11.—As soon as a few little things are ironed out, Tex Rickard can open his box office and start selling tickets for the heavyweight championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney in the Yankee Stadium on September 16.

Officially as far as the New York license committee is concerned, the fight is not on, but it is not off. Dempsey has not been denied a license to fight in New York. Action on his application for a license was not taken yesterday by the committee. It was merely deferred. Unofficially the fight is on, however.

"Everything will work out all right," William Muldoon, senior member of the boxing committee and the one who led a winning crusade to have the commission approve the Dempsey-Tunney fight, said today. "There are a few things to be worked out, little things, but everything is all right," Rickard said today.

The little things to be worked out are merely in the process of getting a license for Dempsey to fight in New York. Tunney was granted his license yesterday.

To get a license, according to Col. John Phelan, chairman of the license committee, Dempsey must sign a contract to fight "someone" in accordance with the rules and regulations of the New York boxing commission. "Someone" mentioned by Col. Phelan does not necessarily mean a particular person and he added a significant remark, when he said: "The license committee considers Dempsey accepted the challenge of Harry Wills, when he signed a contract with Floyd Fitzsimmons in Niles, Mich., last March." Previously the license committee had ruled he was ineligible until he fought Wills. The committee intimated the Wills obstacle was no longer in the way, when Phelan said: "We are not asking Dempsey to fight anyone in particular. We want him to sign a contract to fight someone and show it to the committee."

Muldoon suggested to Rickard that he bring before the committee a contract signed by Dempsey and Tunney. The committee, Muldoon said, will again approve of the match and the license committee will then have no grounds to refuse a license.

As soon as the contract is filed in this office, the fighters can start training, Muldoon said.

Muldoon said the rules forbid a promoter to sign a contract with an unlicensed fighter and added "everything will work out all right."

Rickard said he would get the contract drawn and filed with the commission as soon as possible. Col. Phelan said a special meeting of the committee might be called to act on Dempsey's application for a license if a contract was filed. "Nominally the next meeting of the committee is next week. As to a special meeting I will not answer either way."

Rickard, it was learned today, plans to have Tunney sign the contract and take Dempsey before the commission with this proposition:

Dempsey, with Gene Normile, get one unless he signs a contract. He can't sign a contract unless he gets a license, but he is here to accept this contract verbally, Dempsey says.

DEMPSEY MOVES TO UNWIND TAPE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 11.—Jack Dempsey moved today to unwind the red tape which has surrounded his efforts to obtain a license to box in this state, which he must have before a bout between him and Gene Tunney here September 16 is definitely assured.

Dempsey, with Gene Normile, business representative, and Arthur F. Driscoll, attorney, went to the offices of the boxing commission and put their cards on the table.

The heavy weight champion told Bert Stand, secretary of the commission, that he had signed no less than three contracts to fight Harry Wills, negro challenger, none of which "took."

"I'm tired of these formalities," Dempsey said. "I told Stand that I had promised to fight Gene Tunney and would sign a contract as soon as I receive a license."

The champion then went to the offices of Tex Rickard, the promoter, to ask if he might leave the city

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Tyrus Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers, who drove in the winning run for his team, while pinch hitting for O'Rourke in the seventh. The Tigers beat the Yanks 5 to 3. The game was called early to allow New York to catch a train.

The Pittsburgh Pirates took the Brooklyn Robins for the second in a row 10 to 2. Lee Meadows just breezed along after the first.

Both the Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds used three pitchers each in a slugfest. The Phils finally won 10 to 8.

The Washington Senators took a game from the Cleveland Indians 4 to 3. Reuther held the tribe to six hits, while the Griffs got nine off Levensen.

The White Sox lost a tough one to the Philadelphia Athletics 4 to 3. In the 11th Morehart, subbing for Collins at second, dropped the ball after tagging Hale for the third out. Hale then galloped home on a single.

Virgil Barnes held the Cubs to four well scattered blows, while his mates got eight hits off three Cub pitchers and the Giants won 2 to 0.

Rhem pitched another good game and the Cardinals beat Boston 3 to 1. Goldsmith kept seven blows well scattered and it was not until the ninth that the Cardinals got to him and McGridge, who relieved him, for two runs to break a tie.

Ken Williams' 16th homer came with Sisler on and gave the St. Louis Browns a 6 to 4 victory over the Boston Red Sox after the count had been tied up by the Browns in the seventh.

Dawson, on the mound for the Colonels, was in such great form against the Milwaukee club that he held the hard hitting Brewers to four scattered hits and the Colonels took the second straight game in the present series 8 to 0. The victory enabled the Colonels to increase their lead over the Brewers who are in second place.

Holding the Mudhens to six hits, Walter Betts pitched the Saints to a 2 to 1 victory.

Scoring 7 runs in the fourth inning gave the Indians a lead which the Blues could not overcome and the tribesmen won 8 to 6.

In two long drawn out games Minneapolis came out on top in both against the Senators. The first game was won 5 to 4 in 14 innings, while the second was won 6 to 5.

FIRE WARMS UP DETROIT TIGERS

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Fire broke out in a pullman of the train bearing the Detroit Tigers to St. Louis early today and forced 16 members of the team to move into another car, according to reports reaching here.

The fire happened near Decatur, Ill., according to the report. No one was injured.

tonight for his training camp near Saratoga Springs.

Chairman Farley, of the athletic commission, said that so far as he knew no special session of the boxing body would be held today where by action on Dempsey's license application might be facilitated.

Commissioner Brower today announced the boxing commission would hold a special session tomorrow morning at 10:30. He said the license commission had been invited to attend the session.

RINGER AGAIN TURNS IN VICTORY, BRINGS SEALS TO SECOND PLACE

WARE AND RINGER HAVE PERFECT DAYS AT BAT, CARLSON GETS 2 OUT OF 3

Game Tonight:
Y. M. C. A. vs. B. A. C.

The Seals went into second place in the city league by defeating the Y. M. C. A. team last night by a score of 5 to 2. With three games yet to play, the Seals have a chance to tie the N. E. team, provided they can beat the other three teams once each in the rest of the season.

Ringer again proved himself invincible against the Y. M. C. A. bats, holding them to five hits, none over size. He whiffed nine, and passed one. He also made two hits of his own.

Ware and Ringer had perfect days at bat, Ware getting two singles and a double out of three trips, while Ringer got two singles and two walks in the four times he carried the willow plateward. Carlson got two hits out of three times. Between them, these three players got all the Seals' hits.

Brown, playing left field for the makeshift Y. M. C. A. nine, distinguished himself by making three great catches in the field, all of them on the run. His last catch, off Stevens' bat, was a long fly on the foul line, and Brown had to tramp through the heavy grass and muck of the left field swamp to make the catch.

MORE ARRESTS IN AUTO TIRE 'RING' IN ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Additional arrests were expected today in the automobile tire "ring," in which 11 men already have been taken into custody.

Three of the men under arrest are held charged with stealing tires and eight are booked on charges of receiving stolen property.

Police say the men operated on an extensive scale and robbed innumerable cars of tires and then disposed of them through "fences" about the city.

One of the suspects, Bernard Vinck, 25, claimed to know of 35 places here where it was possible to dispose of stolen property.

BURLINGTON, WIS., SURVIVES GAS ATTACK

Burlington, Wis., Aug. 11.—(UP)—An unexpected gas attack that brought to some memories of the battle fields of France, caused residents here to flee from their homes.

While ripping up the concrete pavement on a residence street here a steam shovel operated by the electric company accidentally tore up a gas line.

The gas was finally shut off with no casualties reported.

BRAINERD TEAMS WIN ALL SETS FROM RANGE TEAMS

CLEVER TENNIS DISPLAYED BY VISITORS BUT CITY TEAMS IN BEST OF SHAPE

CROSBY AND IRONTON HOPE FOR VICTORY AT TOURNEY AT IRONTON TUESDAY

Brainerd won its season's first tennis tournament last night when it defeated the Crosby-Ironton teams at the Gregory Park courts in several interesting sets. Brainerd completely outclassed the range men and won every set played.

The first team which was composed of Dr. M. H. Carlson and Wallace Anderson, fought a hard contest with their evenly matched opponents, Mayberry and Sandstrom, of Ironton, but finally proved victorious, the sets going 8-6, 6-2. Excellent teamwork was shown on the part of both teams. Anderson was in exceptional form, his swift and accurate strokes proving a feature of the game. Dr. Carlson, another of Brainerd's invincible players, performed several neat plays, and did good return work. The range men fought valiantly but could not fathom the fast work of the Brainerd team.

The second team, composed of Lawrence Ericsson and Floyd Nelson, outplayed the range men, Swithers and Lundholm of Crosby, at every turn and easily won three sets in about 45 minutes, the score standing 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

In reverse matches Brainerd's first team defeated Crosby, 6-2, 6-2, and the second team conquered Ironton, 6-2, 6-0.

A large gallery was present demonstrating its interest in the game, which is just receiving its official start in the city, many grownups making the gathering auspicious by their presence.

Mrs. A. C. Weber refereed the first team game. A return match will be held at the Ironton courts next Tuesday.

A FEW LITTLE THINGS REMAIN TO BE IRONED OUT

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT SEEMS ASSURED NOW

"FIGHT IS NOT ON, BUT IT IS NOT OFF" WITH N. Y. LICENSE COMMITTEE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 11.—As soon as a few little things are ironed out, Tex Rickard can open his box office and start selling tickets for the heavyweight championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney in the Yankee Stadium on September 16.

Officially as far as the New York license committee is concerned, the fight is not on, but it is not off. Dempsey has not been denied a license to fight in New York. Action on his application for a license was not taken yesterday by the committee. It was merely deferred. Unofficially the fight is on, however.

"Everything will work out all right," William Muldoon, senior member of the boxing committee and the one who led a winning crusade to have the commission approve the Dempsey-Tunney fight, said today. "There are a few things to be worked out, little things, but everything is all right," Rickard said today.

The little things to be worked out are merely in the process of getting a license for Dempsey to fight in New York. Tunney was granted his license yesterday.

To get a license, according to Col. John Phelan, chairman of the license committee, Dempsey must sign a contract to fight "someone" in accordance with the rules and regulations of the New York boxing commission. "Someone" mentioned by Col. Phelan does not necessarily mean a particular person and he added a significant remark, when he said: "The license committee considers Dempsey accepted the challenge of Harry Wills, when he signed a contract with Floyd Fitzsimmons in Niles, Mich., last March." Previously the license committee had ruled he was ineligible until he fought Wills. The committee intimated the Wills obstacle was no longer in the way, when Phelan said: "We are not asking Dempsey to fight anyone in particular. We want him to sign a contract to fight someone and show it to the committee."

Muldoon suggested to Rickard that he bring before the committee a contract signed by Dempsey and Tunney. The committee, Muldoon said, will again approve of the match and the license committee will then have no grounds to refuse a license.

As soon as the contract is filed in this office, the fighters can start training, Muldoon said.

Muldoon said the rules forbid a promoter to sign a contract with an unlicensed fighter and added "everything will work out all right."

Rickard said he would get the contract drawn and filed with the commission as soon as possible. Col. Phelan said a special meeting of the committee might be called to act on Dempsey's application for a license if a contract was filed. "Nominally the next meeting of the committee is next week. As to a special meeting I will not answer either way."

Rickard, it was learned today, plans to have Tunney sign the contract and take Dempsey before the commission with this proposition:

Dempsey, with Gene Normile, get one unless he signs a contract. He can't sign a contract unless he gets a license, but he is here to accept this contract verbally, Dempsey says.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Tyrus Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers, who drove in the winning run for his team, while pinch hitting for O'Rourke in the seventh. The Tigers beat the Yanks 5 to 3. The game was called early to allow New York to catch a train.

The Pittsburgh Pirates took the Brooklyn Robins for the second in a row 10 to 2. Lee Meadows just breezed along after the first.

Both the Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds used three pitchers each in a slugfest. The Phils finally won 10 to 8.

The Washington Senators took a game from the Cleveland Indians 4 to 0. Reuther held the tribe to six hits, while the Griffs got nine off Levensen.

The White Sox lost a tough one to the Philadelphia Athletics 4 to 3. In the 11th Morehart, subbing for Collins at second, dropped the ball after tagging Hale for the third out. Hale then galloped home on a single.

Virgil Barnes held the Cubs to four well scattered blows, while his mates got eight hits off three Cub pitchers and the Giants won 2 to 0.

Rhem pitched another good game and the Cardinals beat Boston 3 to 1. Goldsmith kept seven blows well scattered and it was not until the ninth that the Cardinals got to him and Morridge, who relieved him, for two runs to break a tie.

Ken Williams' 16th homer came with Sisler on and gave the St. Louis Browns a 6 to 4 victory over the Boston Red Sox after the count had been tied up by the Browns in the seventh.

Dawson, on the mound for the Colonels, was in such great form against the Milwaukee club that he held the hard hitting Brewers to four scattered hits and the Colonels took the second straight game in the present series 8 to 0. The victory enabled the Colonels to increase their lead over the Brewers who are in second place.

Holding the Mudhens to six hits, Walter Betts pitched the Saints to a 2 to 1 victory.

Scoring 7 runs in the fourth inning gave the Indians a lead which the Blues could not overcome and the tribesmen won 8 to 6.

In two long drawn out games Minneapolis came out on top in both against the Senators. The first game was won 5 to 4 in 14 innings, while the second was won 6 to 5.

FIRE WARMS UP DETROIT TIGERS

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Fire broke out in a pullman of the train bearing the Detroit Tigers to St. Louis early today and forced 16 members of the team to move into another car, according to reports reaching here.

The fire happened near Decatur, Ill., according to the report. No one was injured.

tonight for his training camp near Saratoga Springs.

Chairman Farley, of the athletic commission, said that so far as he knew no special session of the boxing body would be held today where by action on Dempsey's license application might be facilitated.

Commissioner Brower today announced the boxing commission would hold a special session tomorrow morning at 10:30. He said the license commission had been invited to attend the session.

RINGER AGAIN TURNS IN VICTORY, BRINGS SEALS TO SECOND PLACE

WARE AND RINGER HAVE PERFECT DAYS AT BAT, CARLSON GETS 2 OUT OF 3

Game Tonight:
Y. M. C. A. vs. B. A. C.

The Seals went into second place in the city league by defeating the Y. M. C. A. team last night by a score of 5 to 2. With three games yet to play, the Seals have a chance to tie the N. E. team, provided they can beat the other three teams once each in the rest of the season.

Ringer again proved himself invincible against the Y. M. C. A. bats, holding them to five hits, none over-size. He whiffed nine, and passed one. He also made two hits of his own.

Ware and Ringer had perfect days at bat, Ware getting two singles and a double out of three trips, while Ringer got two singles and two walks in the four times he carried the willow plow. Carlson got two hits out of three times. Between them, these three players got all the Seals' hits.

Brown, playing left field for the makeshift Y. M. C. A. nine, distinguished himself by making three great catches in the field, all of them on the run. His last catch, off Stevens' bat, was a long fly on the foul line, and Brown had to tramp through the heavy grass and muck of the left field swamp to make the catch.

MORE ARRESTS IN AUTO TIRE 'RING' IN ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Additional arrests were expected today in the automobile tire "ring," in which 11 men already have been taken into custody.

Three of the men under arrest are held charged with stealing tires and eight are booked on charges of receiving stolen property.

Police say the men operated on an extensive scale and robbed innumerable cars of tires and then disposed of them through "fences" about the city.

One of the suspects, Bernard Vinck, 25, claimed to know of 35 places here where it was possible to dispose of stolen property.

SURVIVES GAS ATTACK

Burlington, Wis., Aug. 11.—(UP)—An unexpected gas attack that brought to some memories of the battle fields of France, caused residents here to flee from their homes.

While ripping up the concrete pavement on a residence street here a steam shovel operated by the electric company accidentally tore up a gas line.

The gas was finally shut off with no casualties reported.

BRAINERD TEAMS WIN ALL SETS FROM RANGE TEAMS

CLEVER TENNIS DISPLAYED BY VISITORS BUT CITY TEAMS IN BEST OF SHAPE

CROSBY AND IRONTON HOPE FOR VICTORY AT TOURNEY AT IRONTON TUESDAY

Brainerd won its season's first tennis tournament last night when it defeated the Crosby-Ironton teams at the Gregory Park courts in several interesting sets. Brainerd completely outclassed the range men and won every set played.

The first team which was composed of Dr. M. H. Carlson and Wallace Anderson, fought a hard contest with their evenly matched opponents, Mayberry and Sandstrom, of Ironton, but finally proved victorious, the sets going 8-6, 6-2. Excellent teamwork was shown on the part of both teams. Anderson was in exceptional form, his swift and accurate strokes proving a feature of the game. Dr. Carlson, another of Brainerd's invincible players, performed several neat plays, and did good return work. The range men fought valiantly but could not fathom the fast work of the Brainerd team.

The second team, composed of Lawrence Ericsson and Floyd Nelson, outplayed the range men, Swithers and Lundholm of Crosby, at every turn and easily won three sets in about 45 minutes, the score standing 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

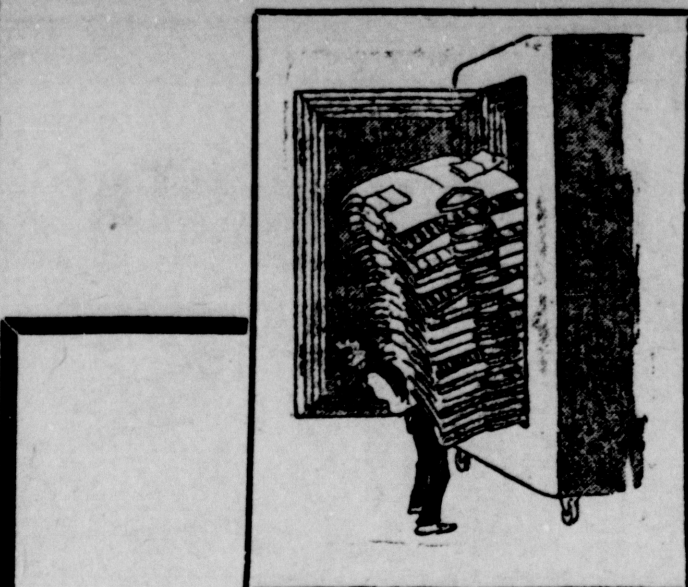

In reverse matches Brainerd's first team defeated Crosby, 6-2, 6-2, and the second team conquered Ironton, 6-2, 6-0.

A large gallery was present demonstrating its interest in the game, which is just receiving its official start in the city, many grownups making the gathering auspicious by their presence.

Mrs. A. C. Weber refereed the first team game. A return match will be held at the Ironton courts next Tuesday.

The mortgage held by the stockholders of the Northwestern hospital was bid in on behalf of R. E. Cody, trustee for the bondholders for the full amount of the mortgage at the sheriff's sales to foreclose the mortgage this morning on the steps of the court house.

The mortgage was for $35,000 which includes the building, and entire property.

The Northwestern hospital was recently forced to close its doors on account of insufficient funds to operate it.

COUNTY FAIR TICKETS

Entire Fair May be Seen for Half Concert Admission or Less

Two or three dollars would be a low price for a ticket to the sort of a concert the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra players will give at the Crow Wing County Fair to be held at Pequot August 30, 31, and Sept. 1, if seats were secured for a city concert. The artists who play would receive thousands of dollars. They are real boosters, however, and they are donating their services—and putting in a lot of time getting special music ready for the fair.

The fair management, in turn, is anxious that as many people as possible shall have the opportunity of hearing these famous musicians, and have placed the price of season tickets, good for admission all thru the fair, at one dollar.

This special rate is good until August 25, after which the regular price of $1.50 will prevail. Regular admissions are 50 cents each time one passes the gates, so the saving on a season ticket is at once apparent.

Arrangements are being made to place these tickets on sale at the leading drug stores in the vicinity.

"BUSY CORNER" MAY BOOSTS COUNTY FOR FARMING

City Council Expected to Pass on Improvement on Sixth and Laurel Street Intersection

TO DECIDE MONDAY NIGHT

Eliminating of Bumps and Replacement to Cost Approximately $1,800 City Engineer Estimates

The city council at their meeting on Monday night are expected to approve of the proposed replacement of the concrete paving on the corner of Sixth and Laurel streets to eliminate the bumps and deficiency in the paving at that intersection.

For some time City Engineer Campbell and the city council have considered the tearing up of the present paving at the intersection and replacing it with new paving to eliminate the bumps which have been the source of much complaint by motorists and on Monday evening it is expected the council will take up the question and rule on it.

If the work is ordered done 630 yards of concrete would have to be torn up and relaid. This would mean an expenditure of approximately $1,800 but about one-third of the cost would be met by the State Highway Department. The work will likely be done this fall. During the construction it would be necessary to block part of the road but would not tie up traffic completely, the city engineer stated today.

With the completion of the laying of the concrete paving from Belle Prairie to Brainerd on Highway No. 27 which will link Brainerd with the Twin Cities with one direct road of paving, which is expected to be completed the early part of October, the contractors, Ostrand and Haller will start on the concrete paving of the center of the highways where they pass through the city.

This work will necessitate the laying of concrete paving on the center of Sixth street from Maple street to the city limits and on Laurel street from Fifth street to the Mississippi river bridge.

IS PROSPEROUS NOW

Northern Minnesota Excellent to Start Farming, Mr. Wheeler Stated

C. E. Wheeler, a farmer of Crow Wing county who during 20 years of farming in this county has made big strides in progress on his farm, is a great advocate for northern Minnesota as a location to get a start in farming.

"I came to Crow Wing county about 20 years ago with a wife three children and $32, which was first payment on 80 acres of land covered with brush and stumps," Mr. Wheeler reports. "I had an old team and wagon. We are not bragging about what we have done but are now in control of one-half section of the best land in the country. The principal crops are corn, oats, rye, and hay with a 20 acre crop of potatoes a year on the average."

"The climate does not differ a great deal from southern Minnesota," he stated, "our woods abound with game from quail to moose. Our lakes and streams are the best for fishing to be found anywhere. Our soil is good and productive, our markets excellent. What more do you want? To renters and home seekers I can say that I know of no place that beats northern Minnesota to get a start in farming. It is the land of clover and vegetation and consequently it is a dairy country of the finest type."

Good Silk Stockings

Deserve Good Care

Many women wear stockings too short or too long, for the width and length of their feet. One of these faults will cause a hose to wear out too quickly, the other makes them uncomfortable, and a hose should feel so well that one is unconscious of having a hose on, excepting for the beauty of them. This information below may serve as a guide in securing your proper size.

With a size 2 to 3 shoe wear a size 8 1/2 stocking.

With a size 4 shoe wear a size 9 stocking.

With a size 5 shoe wear a size 9 1/2 stocking.

With a size 6 shoe wear a size 10 stocking.

With a size 7 shoe wear a size 10 1/2 stocking.

If one's feet are narrow a full fashioned stocking is the best fitting; if one's feet are wide a seamless foot will fit well.

These splendid hose like Phoenix, Gotham Gold Stripe and Cadet are sure to fit well and being made from pure silk will wear well and give the most beautiful appearance.

"BUSY CORNER" MAY BOOSTS COUNTY HAVE NEW CONCRETE FOR FARMING

City Council Expected to Pass on Improvement on Sixth and Laurel Street Intersection

TO DECIDE MONDAY NIGHT

Eliminating of Bumps and Replacement to Cost Approximately $1,800 City Engineer Estimates

The city council at their meeting on Monday night are expected to approve of the proposed replacement of the concrete paving on the corner of Sixth and Laurel streets to eliminate the bumps and deficiency in the paving at that intersection.

For some time City Engineer Campbell and the city council have considered the tearing out of the present paving at the intersection and replacing it with new paving to eliminate the bumps which have been the source of much complaint by motorists and on Monday evening it is expected the council will take up the question and rule on it.

If the work is ordered done 630 yards of concrete would have to be torn up and relaid. This would mean an expenditure of approximately $1,800 but about one-third of the cost would be met by the State Highway Department. The work will likely be done this fall. During the construction it would be necessary to block part of the road but would not tie up traffic completely, the city engineer stated today.

With the completion of the laying of the concrete paving from Belle Prairie to Brainerd on Highway No. 27 which will link Brainerd with the Twin Cities with one direct road of paving, which is expected to be completed the early part of October, the contractors, Ostrand and Haller will start on the concrete paving of the center of the highways where they pass through the city.

This work will necessitate the laying of concrete paving on the center of Sixth street from Maple street to the city limits and on Laurel street from Fifth street to the Mississippi river bridge.

Good Silk Stockings

Deserve Good Care

Many women wear stockings too short or too long, for the width and length of their feet. One of these faults will cause a hose to wear out too quickly, the other makes them uncomfortable, and a hose should feel so well that one is unconscious of having a hose on, excepting for the beauty of them. This information below may serve as a guide in securing your proper size.

With a size 2 to 3 shoe wear a size 8 1/2 stocking.

With a size 4 shoe wear a size 9 stocking.

With a size 5 shoe wear a size 9 1/2 stocking.

With a size 6 shoe wear a size 10 stocking.

With a size 7 shoe wear a size 10 1/2 stocking.

If one's feet are narrow a full fashioned stocking is the best fitting; if one's feet are wide a seamless foot will fit well.

These splendid hose like Phoenix, Gotham Gold Stripe and Cadet are sure to fit well and being made from pure silk will wear well and give the most beautiful appearance.

Little Visits

Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

W. H. Triplett

The first two farmers called on this morning were absent, at least we could not find them around any where, so I headed for Emil Johnson's place and found him and his two daughters busy making hay. Mr. Johnson has farmed 160 acres for the last 13 years, making dairying his major occupation; he is milking 11 cows at present.

A. E. Zak was another whom I found gone, but his wife tells me that they have farmed 80 acres for four years. Mr. Zak working at odd jobs off and on. Mrs. Zak was digging potatoes and they were very good ones. Speaking of potatoes, I wish to call the attention of the readers again, to the county fair at Pequot and the fact that potatoes make a very nice exhibit and will bring one in some extra pin money that can always be used. In selecting potatoes for an exhibit, select those of uniform size, color and shape, a fourth bushel or half bushel makes an ideal exhibit. For further information in making up exhibits of potatoes or any other crop, Mr. Roth the county agent will gladly give suggestions.

I ventured back to Morrison county for the first time since the first of June to call on Albert Ohlto, who has 40 acres and makes dairying his major enterprise.

Frank Smude had gone to Minneapolis so we were informed by the children and Mrs. Smude and Mrs. Konopik were picking berries in the woods.

William Boelz is renting a half section of land from his father, 80 acres of which is under cultivation. The timber land in this part of the country reminds me of the Argonne forest in France, after it had been struck by a few '75's.

I had an interesting visit with J. E. Heagy and family who have lived in the community for the last 15 years, with the exception of a year and a half which they spent with relatives in Canada. Eleven cows occupy part of Mr. Heagy's time, and his 320 acres help to keep him busy throughout the year. The buildings on the place are equipped with gas lights which help to brighten things up especially on cold winter nights. Mrs. Heagy and her daughter were busy canning peas and beans.

Mrs. H. Brand is managing 182 acres, her two children doing the farm work. Nine cows of mixed breed are milked. Frank Johnson was cutting grain for them today.

Sam Brand was busy getting the old binder greased up to cut grain for his neighbor, Mr. Cryslar. Mr. Brand said that when he first came to the farm that the country was surely wild and woolly; there were no roads and many a time he hiked to Brainerd to get supplies. He has a well improved farm of 204 acres and Mrs. Brand is the proud possessor of a new kitchen which was built recently. Dairying is the major occupation on the place, 14 cows being milked now and he plans on milking 24 by spring. The cattle will be insured of good clover hay in their ration next winter as he has 18 acres of very fine stand. He says that his sheep make him more money than any other animal on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and the latter's mother Mrs. Weltro have farmed 160 acres for the last two years and from the looks of the crops and garden they are doing exceptionally well. At present six cows of mixed breed are milked.

Irving Cryslar has made some very fine improvements during the eight years he has been on the farm; he has lived in Crow Wing county for 41 years and has seen many people come and go, but the ones that stayed have all done well. Mr. Cryslar is farming 120 acres, 50 of which are under cultivation; 13 cows bring in the major income on the place. A purebred Guernsey sire is being used to improve the herd. I enjoyed hearing Miss Cryslar play a few selections on the piano and I congratulate her on the talent she possesses. She plans on following the teachers profession when her education is completed.

STOCKS BREAK IN LATE TRADING

New York, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Stocks broke again in today's late trading after showing an improved tone in the first three or four hours. Improvement took place in General Motors and other industrial leaders at the start of trading and these recoveries were sustained throughout the morning despite professional efforts to force resumption of the downward movement.

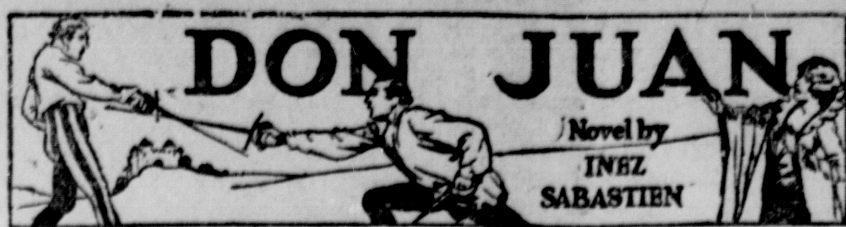

However, Tuesday's heavy calling of loans was followed by further withdrawals aggregating about $16,000,000 and the selling movement was reduced in the afternoon. Steel common broke badly dropping substantially below the point of resistance established on Tuesday's decline.

General Motors and other industrial leaders also reached new lows on the movement and the whole market was under severe pressure at the close.

The market closed lower.

Grades in Safety

Some conditions are good, but safe men are better, remarks the National Safety council.

Copyright, 1926, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. "Don Juan," screen play by Bess Meredyth, starring John Barrymore, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Don Juan's disillusioned father warns him: "Destroy women or they will destroy you. Take their love scornfully—and forget!" This advice has made Don Juan the greatest lover of all time. Infamous Lucrétia Borgia, greatest power in Rome, invites him to her reception. Also present is exquisite Adriana Varnese, coveted by Borgia's cousin, Donati. The Borgia prepare to poison Adriana's father, so that the girl will be left alone at their mercy. Juan's interest is caught by Adriana. Lucrétia warns him Donati is a deadly swordsman. Juan and Donati meet tensely.

His glance and Juan's were like rapiers clashing against each other. "You Spaniards make pretty speeches, but they have no point," Donati said finally, and his eyes swept Juan from heel to head, contemptuously noting Juan's slenderness.

Juan stood smiling mockingly, and with a little laugh and a shrug of his shoulders so insulting that he half expected Juan to challenge him to a duel as a result. Juan, however, had no mind for anything of the sort at that particular moment. To fight with Donati would have taken time which he wished to devote to furthering his acquaintance with Adriana.

He made his way to the great ballroom, where Adriana was standing with her father. She could not help feeling worried about him, and again Juan seemed about to drink the wine, and again, apparently reminded of an amusing story, he lowered the glass and bent forward to whisper in the ear of the old woman with whom he talked. With every appearance of being elaborately casual, Lucrétia made her way to his side. And as for a third time he raised the glass she laid her hand on his arm.

Exquisitely polite, he turned to her. Menningly she met his eyes and moved away to the balcony on which the ballroom's long windows opened. Juan made a bow of deep apology to the dowager, who sighed mournfully as he left her to follow Lucrétia. Those nearby smiled and shrugged their shoulders. One or two commented on Lucrétia's new choice of a lover.

And Adriana, hearing them and seeing what had happened, wondered at the little pain that stabbed at her heart. This man had interested her—and, after all, he was only another of Lucrétia Borgia's favorites!

Cesare, watching also, wondered a little. Certain that Juan had known perfectly what he was doing in taking the goblet of poisoned wine, he could not be quite so certain of the young Spaniard's motive in so doing. And for Cesare Borgia not to be quite sure of the motive behind another's actions was a new experience, and not a welcome one. Mentally he chalked up a score against this young upstart.

Juan, joining Lucrétia on the moonlit balcony, looked down at her for an instant, and to her it seemed that the music that floated to them from the ballroom, and the white moonlight and the scent of flowers from the garden below, all were blended into the delight that she knew when she gazed up into his heavy lidded eyes. Then she knew stark horror as he lifted the glass of wine in a toast.

"To your devastating charm!" he murmured, and was about to drink, she thought, when suddenly he held out the glass to her.

"Let your lips perfume the wine," he begged.

She knew then that he understood what had happened, and both hated and admired him for it. Her thoughts moved as swiftly as a coiled snake that suddenly strikes, but her movement was languid as she lifted one hand and pushed the glass away.

"We Borgias do not share with another," she told him, and his sardonic smile acknowledged her skill. "My pride gains strength from yours, sweet teacher," he replied, turning, emptied the wine over a rose bush that climbed the trellis work of the balcony.

The rose bush was covered with white blossoms. One, on which the wine fell, shriveled and crumpled before their eyes. And Juan, leaning forward, plucked it and, still smiling, held it out to her.

"The rose is richer by a great experience," he said, and mockery of her and laughter at her failure ran through his voice.

For an instant the serving man's gaze met his. Then Cesare passed around a group of people to the side of the Duke Delia Varanese. And Lucrétia, talking idly with the courtiers who pressed about her, watched him and Varanese with the eyes of a cat about to pounce on her prey.

There was another who watched, keen eyed. Juan, though apparently devoting himself to a fat, bejeweled dowager, had taken in the little scene. Trained as he had been, he had missed no detail. He had not actually seen the poison trickle into the goblet of wine, but he knew what it meant when Cesare Borgia's hand hesitated over wine meant for another. And when Cesare, apparently distressed that Varanese had not been served,

"PAGEANT OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN"

TO BE STAGED IN OPEN-AIR AMPHITHEATRE AT RED WING TONIGHT

Red Wing, Minn., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Preparations were being completed today for "The Pageant of Abraham Lincoln" to be staged in the open-air amphitheatre here tonight and Thursday.

The program is under direction of the Lincoln Pageant Association of Minneapolis. Miss Elizabeth Casey, of St. Paul, is director.

Thomas W. Hunt, who is in his eighties, and a pioneer resident of Red Wing, is to play the character portraying the immortal emancipator.

"In Hunt we have a perfect Lincoln," said Miss Casey.

"No make-up is required. He not only looks the part but there is something about his bearing and the seriousness with which he enters into his role that is awe-inspiring. One feels he is in the very presence of Lincoln."

The pageant will be staged on the grounds of the Red Wing golf course. The stirring scenes in the life of Lincoln will be presented on a stage in the valley. The ground slopes on three sides, forming a perfect amphitheatre.

Huge and innumerable flood lights will be used to provide illumination, interspersed between the scenes will be a number of esthetic dances, all dealing with the general theme. A forty-piece band will furnish music, provisions have been made to take care of a crowd of at least 25,000 spectators on the two nights. A historical pageant here a number of years ago drew an attendance of over 20,000.

CONFESSED BANK EMBEZZLERS SEEK BAIL FOR RELEASE

St. Paul, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Bail of $15,000 each for C. E. Southwick and S. L. Seman, confessed Rochester, Minn., bank embezzlers, will be asked for their release when they are arraigned late this afternoon before United States Commissioner W. T. Goddard.

James E. Wharton, assistant United States district attorney, who is representing the prosecution, indicated he understood the men had arranged for the bond.

Southwick, cashier, confessed to taking $26,998.54 from the Union National Bank of Rochester, and Seman confessed to thefts of $11,062.50 from the same bank, of which he was cashier.

W. H. Triplett

Little Visits

Around the Rural Section

Written especially for the Dispatch by W. H. Triplett, travelling editor for this paper and The Farmer of St. Paul.

The first two farmers called on this morning were absent, at least we could not find them around anywhere, so I headed for Emil Johnson's place and found him and his two daughters busy making hay. Mr. Johnson has farmed 160 acres for the last 13 years, making dairying his major occupation; he is milking 11 cows at present.

A. E. Zak was another whom I found gone, but his wife tells me that they have farmed 80 acres for four years, Mr. Zak working at odd jobs off and on. Mrs. Zak was digging potatoes and they were very good ones. Speaking of potatoes, I wish to call the attention of the readers again, to the county fair at Pequot and the fact that potatoes make a very nice exhibit and will bring one in some extra pin money that can always be used. In selecting potatoes for an exhibit, select those of uniform size, color and shape, a fourth bushel or half bushel makes an ideal exhibit. For further information in making up exhibits of potatoes or any other crop, Mr. Roth the county agent will gladly give suggestions.

I ventured back to Morrison county for the first time since the first of June to call on Albert Ohotto, who has 40 acres and makes dairying his major enterprise.

Frank Smude had gone to Minneapolis so we were informed by the children and Mrs. Smude and Mrs. Konopik were picking berries in the woods.

William Boelz is renting a half section of land from his father, 80 acres of which is under cultivation. The timber land in this part of the country reminds me of the Argonne forest in France, after it had been struck by a few '75's.

I had an interesting visit with J. E. Heagy and family who have lived in the community for the last 15 years, with the exception of a year and a half which they spent with relatives in Canada. Eleven cows occupy part of Mr. Heagy's time, and his 320 acres help to keep him busy throughout the year. The buildings on the place are equipped with gas lights which help to brighten things up especially on cold winter nights. Mrs. Heagy and her daughter were busy canning peas and beans.

Mrs. H. Brand is managing 182 acres, her two children doing the farm work. Nine cows of mixed breed are milked. Frank Johnson was cutting grain for them today.

Sam Brand was busy getting the old binder greased up to cut grain for his neighbor, Mr. Cryslar. Mr. Brand said that when he first came to the farm that the country was surely wild and woolly; there were no roads and many a time he liked to Brainerd to get supplies. He has a well improved farm of 204 acres and Mrs. Brand is the proud possessor of a new kitchen which was built recently. Dairying is the major occupation on the place, 14 cows being milked now and he plans on milking 24 by spring. The cattle will be insured of good clover hay in their ration next winter as he has 18 acres of very fine stand. He says that his sheep make him more money than any other animal on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and the latter's mother Mrs. Weltrou have farmed 160 acres for the last two years and from the looks of the crops and garden they are doing exceptionally well. At present six cows of mixed breed are milked.

Irving Cryslar has made some very fine improvements during the eight years he has been on the farm; he has lived in Crow Wing county for 41 years and has seen many people come and go, but the ones that stayed have all done well. Mr. Cryslar is farming 120 acres, 50 of which are under cultivation; 13 cows bring in the major income on the place. A purebred Guernsey sire is being used to improve the herd. I enjoyed hearing Miss Cryslar play a few selections on the piano and I congratulate her on the talent she possesses. She plans on following the teachers profession when her education is completed.

STOCKS BREAK IN LATE TRADING
New York, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Stocks broke again in today's late trading after showing an improved tone in the first three or four hours. Improvement took place in General Motors and other industrial leaders at the start of trading and these recoveries were sustained throughout the morning despite professional efforts to force resumption of the downward movement.

However, Tuesday's heavy calling of loans was followed by further withdrawals aggregating about $16,000,000 and the selling movement was reduced in the afternoon. Steel common broke badly dropping substantially below the point of resistance established on Tuesday's decline.

General Motors and other industrial leaders also reached new lows on the movement and the whole market was under severe pressure at the close.

The market closed lower.

"Don Juan," screen play by Bess Meredith, starring John Barrymore, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Don Juan's disillusioned father warns him: "Destroy women, or they will destroy you. Take their love scornfully and forget!" This advice has made Don Juan the greatest lover of all time. Infamous Lucretia Borgia, greatest power in Rome, invites him to her reception. Also present is exquisite Adriana Varnese, coveted by Borgia's cousin, Donati. The Borgia prepare to poison Adriana's father, so that the girl will be left alone at their mercy. Juan's interest is caught by Adriana. Lucretia warns him Donati is a deadly swordsman. Juan and Donati meet tensely.

His glance and Juan's were like rapier blades against each other. "You Spaniards make pretty speeches, but they have no point," Donati said finally, and his eyes swept Juan from head to foot, contemptuously noting Juan's slenderness.

Juan stood smiling mockingly, and at last Donati moved away, with a little laugh and a shrug of his shoulders so insulting that he half expected Juan to challenge him to a duel as a result. Juan, however, had no mind for anything of the sort at that particular moment. To fight with Donati would have taken time which he wished to devote to furthering his acquaintance with Adriana.

He made his way to the great ballroom, where Adriana was standing with her father. She could not help feeling worried about him, made to offer the guest his own glass, and then, apologizing because he himself had sipped it, beckoned to the serving man who hovered near. Juan, apparently still interested only in the dowager, reached out one hand and took the third glass of wine from the servant's tray.

Schooled though he was to show no feeling, Cesare frowned, and Adriana, seeing that he did, looked up at her father, bewildered. Surely all was not well here. Her fears swarmed about her again.

Juan, pausing in his talk, seemed about to sip the poisoned wine. Then, with the glass half way to his lips, he lowered it again. From the corner of his eye he saw Lucretia's expression. She, too, had dropped her mask for an instant, as had her brother. Consternation swept over her face, but almost instantly was gone as she saw that Juan had noted it. She turned away, but not so far that she could not still observe him.

Again Juan seemed about to drink the wine, and again, apparently reminded of an amusing story, he lowered the glass and bent forward to whisper in the ear of the lewd old woman with whom he talked. With every appearance of being elaborately casual, Lucretia made her way to his side. And for a third time he raised the glass as she laid her hand on his arm.

Exquisitely polite, he turned to her. Meaningfully she met his eyes and moved away to the balcony on which the ballroom's long windows opened. Juan made a bow of deep apology to the dowager, who sigh-fearful that here in the house of their enemies something horrible might happen to him. Having found him, her thoughts strayed back to Juan.

"Let your lips perfume the wine," he begged.

And Juan, making his way through the throng of guests, tried his hardest to reach her. Women blocked his way. He could have pushed past the men, but their wives and sisters and sweethearts—yes, even mothers, had heard of Don Juan, and those who had not already met him were determined not to lose this opportunity.

Lucretia noted the way in which they detained him and smiled. He came well recommended, this prospective lover of hers. The women of Rome, of all Italy, had had to bow to her in other things; now they would bow in this little matter also. Lucretia Borgia and the famous Don Juan—they would be well suited to each other.

She turned to the servant who paused before her with a tray on which were three glasses of wine, delicately wrought goblets of Venetian glass, exquisite as rainbows. Other servants were making their way through the crowd similarly laden. Lucretia stretched out one slim, white arm with its burden of jewels and took the nearest glass. For brother, standing beside her, took the furthest one.

And in his hand as it passed over the glass between him and it was the tiny phial given him a few moments before by Mori, the sorcerer.

There was the slightest break in his movement, the slightest hesitation, as his hand paused over the third goblet. When his hand moved again the contents of the glass had been increased by three tiny drops of colorless liquid.

For an instant the serving man's gaze met his. Then Cesare passed around a group of people to the side of the Duke Della Varanese. And Lucretia, talking idly with the courtiers who pressed about her, watched him and Varanese with the eyes of a cat about to pounce on her prey.

There was another who watched, Juan. Juan, though apparently devoting himself to a fat, bejeweled dowager, had taken in the little scene. Trained as he had been, he had missed no detail. He had not actually seen the poison trickle into the goblet of wine, but he knew what it meant when Cesare Borgia's hand hesitated over wine meant for another. And when Cesare, apparently distressed that Varanese had not been served, ed mournfully as he left her to follow Lucretia. Those nearby smiled and shrugged their shoulders. One or two commented on Lucretia's new choice of a lover.

And Adriana, hearing them and seeing what had happened, wondered at the little pain that stabbed at her heart. This man had interested her—and, after all, he was only another of Lucretia Borgia's favorites!

Cesare, watching also, wondered a little. Certain that Juan had known perfectly what he was doing in taking the goblet of poisoned wine, he could not be quite so certain of the young Spaniard's motive in so doing. And for Cesare Borgia not to be quite sure of the motive behind another's actions was a new experience, and not a welcome one. Mentally he chalked up a score against this young upstart.

Juan, joining Lucretia on the moonlit balcony, looked down at her for an instant, and to her it seemed that the music that floated to them from the ballroom, and the white moonlight and the scent of flowers from the garden below, all were blended into the delight that she knew when she gazed up into his heavy lidded eyes. Then she knew stark horror as he lifted the glass of wine in a toast.

"To your devastating charm!" he murmured, and was about to drink, she thought, when suddenly he held out the glass to her.

"Let your lips perfume the wine," he begged.

She knew then that he understood what had happened, and both hated and admired him for it. Her thoughts moved as swiftly as a coiled snake that suddenly strikes, but her movement was languid as she lifted one hand and pushed the glass away.

"We Borgia do not share with another," she told him, and his sardonic smile acknowledged her skill. "My pride gains strength from yours, sweet teacher," he replied, and, turning, emptied the wine over a rose bush that climbed the trellis work of the balcony.

The rose bush was covered with white blossoms. One, on which the wine fell, shriveled and crumpled before their eyes. And Juan, leaning forward, plucked it and, still smiling, held it out to her.

"The rose is richer by a great experience," he said, and memory of her and laughter at her failure ran through his veins.

"PAGEANT OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN"

TO BE STAGED IN OPEN-AIR AMPHITHEATRE AT RED WING TONIGHT

Red Wing, Minn., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Preparations were being completed today for "The Pageant of Abraham Lincoln" to be staged in the open-air amphitheatre here tonight and Thursday.

The program is under direction of the Lincoln Pageant Association of Minneapolis. Miss Elizabeth Casey, of St. Paul, is director.

Thomas W. Hunt, who is in his eighties, and a pioneer resident of Red Wing, is to play the character portraying the immortal emancipator.

"In Hunt we have a perfect Lincoln," said Miss Casey. "No make-up is required. He not only looks the part but there is something about his bearing and the seriousness with which he enters into his role that is awe-inspiring. One feels he is in the very presence of Lincoln."

The pageant will be staged on the grounds of the Red Wing golf course. The stirring scenes in the life of Lincoln will be presented on a stage in the valley. The ground slopes on three sides, forming a perfect amphitheatre.

Huge and innumerable flood lights will be used to provide illumination, interspersed between the scenes will be a number of esthetic dances, all dealing with the general theme. A forty-piece band will furnish music, provisions have been made to take care of a crowd of at least 25,000 spectators on the two nights. A historical pageant here a number of years ago drew an attendance of over 20,000.

CONFESSED BANK EMBEZZLERS SEEK BAIL FOR RELEASE

St. Paul, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Bail of $15,000 each for C. E. Southwick and S. L. Seman, confessed Rochester, Minn., bank embezzlers, will be asked for their release when they are arraigned late this afternoon before United States Commissioner W. T. Goddard.

James E. Wharton, assistant United States district attorney, who is representing the prosecution, indicated he understood the men had arranged for the bond.

Southwick, cashier, confessed to taking $26,998.54 from the Union National Bank of Rochester, and Seman confessed to thefts of $11,062.50 from the same bank, of which he was cashier.
